Anna Goes To Zambia (Fiction Readers)

Synopsis

In this adventurous tale, Anna travels all over the world in alphabetical order. Young readers will be introduced to exotic, far-off places, while practicing the alphabet. Readers will enjoy the fun-filled illustrations and attempting to say the names of all the new places. About Shell Education Rachelle Cracchiolo started the company with a friend and fellow teacher. Both were eager to share their ideas and passion for education with other classroom leaders. What began as a hobby, selling lesson plans to local stores, became a part-time job after a full day of teaching, and eventually blossomed into Teacher Created Materials. The story continued in 2004 with the launch of Shell Education and the introduction of professional resources and classroom application books designed to support Teacher Created Materials curriculum resources. Today, Teacher Created Materials and Shell Education are two of the most recognized names in educational publishing around the world.

$4.99. ~K-Gr 2-These books are designed for early-intervention-level or beginning readers. The back covers also list grade level equivalents, word counts, guided reading levels, and DRA levels. In Anna, a girl finds an atlas in her attic and takes imaginary visits to places around the world in alphabetical order. This book stretches the geography knowledge of first graders and may make points too mature for them to enjoy. Safari Camp is about a lioness who makes all the other animals brush their teeth before going to bed. Callen provides humor by describing different types of toothbrushes the various animals use, including a doughnut-shaped brush the flamingo uses to brush her beak. The best of the group is Speak Up!, a collection of very short poems. They are clever and easy to read with humorous illustrations. In It's Good Enough to Eat, children find creative ways to make things out of their fruits and vegetables before eating them. It might spark interest in consuming more healthy food, but is also likely to encourage a lot of food play. Parents will need to find the right balance for the dinner table. Paul Bunyan will appeal to young readers because they have probably heard a tall tale about the character before. The absurdity creates humor, and children will like reading about a blue ox that is the giant woodsman's faithful companion. More appropriate to a classroom library than a school or public library, these titles are better than many books for beginning readers, yet they are not outstanding.-Mary Hazelton, formerly at Warren & Waldo Elementary Schools, ME (c) Copyright 2013. Not worth the money.
