Joseph Matthews has been an attorney since 1971, and from 1975 to 1977 taught at the law school of the University of California, Berkeley. He has for many years been involved in matters relating to seniors, and is the author of Social Security, Medicare & Government Pensions and Long Term Care: How to Plan & Play for It, as well as How to Win Your Personal Injury Claim.

Not very useful when it comes to the actual negotiations process and you reach an impasse. Insurance companies have been processing claims longer than those reading this have been alive and know all the tricks of the trade. Involved in two collisions where I had the opportunity to put the strategies presented in this book to work. On both occasions, the process worked well up until the negotiations. Needless to say, I had to hire attorneys for both collisions and to file civil suits.

I am using this to better substantiate my present personal injury claim. It is actually starting to work as a result of reading this book and following the guidance. Thanks.

After being in a head \-on collision with a 17 year old (who was 100% at fault), I used this book to get a sense of what I was looking at in dealing with his mother's insurance. It also helped me develop questions for the lawyer I'm actually going to have to get to ensure I get a fair settlement. As always, Nolo Press comes through in the clinches!

Very helpful in making sure we covered all the bases in my mother's injury lawsuit. Defines the issues clearly to the non-lawyer.

This book may be a reasonable source of information to help prepare to work with an attorney, but it doesn't by any means replace one. The people you'll deal with at the insurance companies do this every day and therefore have a tremendous advantage over those of us who don't.

Very helpful book with great advice.

Useful information, not as detailed as it could be. I learned some interesting things, but would recommend getting an attorney anyway, even if you read this book.

Highly recommended. Covers absolutely everything you need to know.
