Frida Kahlo: The Gisèle Freund Photographs

Synopsis

In 1950, photographer Gisèle Freund embarked on a two-week trip to Mexico, but she wouldn't leave until two years later. There she met the legendary couple Frida Kahlo and Diego Rivera. Welcomed into their home, she immersed herself in their private lives and the cultural and artistic diversity of the country, taking hundreds of photographs. These powerful photographs, among the last taken before Kahlo's death, bear poignant witness to Frida's beauty and talent. Showcasing more than 100 of these rare images, many of which have never been published before, the book also includes previously unpublished commentary by Gisèle Freund about Frida Kahlo, texts by Kahlo's biographer Gérard de Cortanze and art historian Lorraine Audric, as well as a link to a previously unreleased color film, shot by Freund, showing Diego Rivera at work.

Customer Reviews

• Offers the most intimate insights into her life and working process . . . both Kahlo and Rivera shine forth from these domestic images. • (New York Times)

Gisèle Freund (1908–2000) was one of the first female members of Magnum Photos and is also known as one of the greatest portrait photographers of all time. She photographed an incredible number of renowned writers and artists, including Vladimir Nabokov, Virginia Woolf, and James Joyce, among others.

I bought this for my wife and she absolutely loved it! This is not a biography. It is a picture book of Frida's life, paintings, and photo history. Great coffee table book.

I have several books containing photos of her and Diego. This one contains photos not found in the others.

This is a lovely book however I was slightly disappointed to realise that the textured cover was just printed on a sleeve not an actual material cover.

inside look at the lives of Frida and Diego during the early 1950's

Beautiful, just beautiful. I got this for my mom for Mother's Day, I really think she is going to like this, she is a huge fan. Fast shipping A+
